

2004 Student Achievement Award Winner

Student Achievement Award Winner El-Marie Bodes (right) accepts award plaque from WIT President, Dr. Ginger Moser at the SOT Meeting in Baltimore

El-Marie Bodes is a board-certified DVM working on her PhD in Toxicology at the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill. She has an active and productive research program, for which she has already received independent funding. She carries a teaching load and has received awards for her efforts with her students. She serves the UNC graduate school by participating in and initiating student organization activities. She has been inducted into the Frank Porter Graham Honor Society and the Order of the Grail-Valkyries, a tribute to her outstanding scholarship, leadership, character, and service.