

Toxicology Scholar Campus Visits and Guest Lecture in Toxicology Program

SOT Members: Bring awareness of toxicology to undergraduate campuses in your region!

- Identify the target undergraduate institution.
- Work with an undergraduate faculty member to arrange a visit.
- Submit a proposal for funding.
- Make formal and informal presentations on toxicology topics and careers during your campus visit.
- Report your success back to SOT!

The Education Committee and Committee on Diversity Initiatives invite SOT members, Regional Chapters, Special Interest Groups, and Specialty Sections to send proposals for partial or full support of travel and lodging costs (up to $500) for campus visits by a professional toxicologist and/or advanced graduate student in the discipline. Provision of matching funds from the Regional Chapter, Special Interest Group, Specialty Section, the academic institution involved, or the business employing the visitor(s) is encouraged.

More information, the application, and a summary of other campus visits are found on the SOT Web site under “Services: Education Resources” then “Education and Public Outreach.”
