Attendee Qualifications

The Society of Toxicology (SOT) reserves the right to review applications for participation in the SOT Annual Meeting and ToxExpo to confirm that the applicant meets the SOT attendance qualifications. The Society may reject a registration by any individual or organization or withdraw registration privileges at any time if the individual or organization is found to be inconsistent with the Society's principles and interests.

Individuals

Participation is available only to bona fide individuals who are engaged in or promote the field of toxicology or biotechnology research and support the growth and development of the toxicology field.

Organizations

Participation is available only to bona fide organizations with public policy positions and business practices that are generally consistent with the SOT mission, goals, and reputation, as well as its policies and principles, as determined by the Society.

SOT Code of Conduct

The Society of Toxicology is committed to providing a safe and productive environment for all of its meetings; one that fosters open dialogue, the free exchange of scientific ideas, the promotion of equal opportunity, and is free of any sort of harassment, coercion, and discrimination. All meeting participants are expected to treat others with respect and consideration, follow virtual platform rules, and alert Society of Toxicology staff or officers of instances of harassment, coercion, or discrimination. The Society of Toxicology is fully cognizant that there are areas of our science that are controversial. Our meetings can and should serve as an effective forum to consider and debate scientifically-relevant viewpoints in an orderly, respectful and fair manner. The policies herein apply to all meeting attendees, speakers, exhibitors, guests, staff, contractors, and volunteers.

What is harassment?

Harassment includes speech or behavior that is not welcome or is personally offensive, whether it is based on ethnicity, race, gender, religion, age, body size, disability, veteran status, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, or other reason not related to scientific merit.

Behavior acceptable to one person may not be acceptable to others. As such, meeting attendees must use discretion to ensure that respect is clearly communicated. Harassment expressed in a joking manner still constitutes unacceptable behavior. Retaliation for reporting harassment is a violation of this policy, as is reporting an incident in bad faith.

Reporting harassment

The Society of Toxicology is committed to providing a safe environment for everyone at any of its meetings. If an individual experiences or witnesses harassment of any kind, they should contact Society of Toxicology staff at SOTHQ@toxicology.org or 703.438.3115. All complaints will be treated seriously and responded to promptly.

If an individual wishes to file a formal grievance of harassment:

- The individual should notify meeting staff at SOTHQ@toxicology.org or 703.438.3115.
- Society of Toxicology staff will discuss any grievance first with the individual filing the grievance then with the alleged offender, seek counsel if the appropriate action is unclear, and report the incident and findings to the Society of Toxicology Council and legal counsel.
- The Society of Toxicology will consult with the individual filing the grievance before taking any action.

The Society of Toxicology reserves the right to remove an individual from a meeting without warning or refund of any expenses, to prohibit attendance at future Society of Toxicology meetings, and to notify the individual's employer. If there are questions related to this policy, please contact the Society of Toxicology Executive Director at SOTHQ@toxicology.org or 703.438.3115.
