

American Association of Chinese in Toxicology

A Special Interest Group of Society of Toxicology (SOT-SIG)

AACT Mission

The objectives of AACT are:

To foster interactions among professionals of Chinese background and/or ethnicity in toxicological or related sciences through the exchange of information in education, technology, employment, or business opportunities;

1) To facilitate collaborative activities in toxicology-related research or projects between Chinese scientists or organizations in the U.S. and abroad;

2) To promote the participation of scientists of any ethnical background who share the same common interests in toxicology and related fields.

AACT members share the vision: creating an organization that connects scientists with Chinese ethnic background in the toxicology and related fields.

AACT Membership

AACT was established in 2004 and joined the Society of Toxicology Special Interest Groups (SOT-SIG) in 2007. The AACT is a product of the merger between the American Chinese Toxicology Society (ACTS, est. 1984) and American Chinese Society of Toxicology (ACSOT, est. 1995).

We currently have 200+ members. Our membership is multidisciplinary and drawn from academia, industry, and government.

How to Join AACT?

Free for postdoctoral and student SOT members (first SIG only) and $15 for each additional.

For non-SOT members: you can still become an AACT member but will receive limited membership privileges.
