II. Activities:

2018 SOT Annual Meeting Reception was held in San Antonio, Texas on March 12, 2018

Approximately 40 people were in attendance.

Dr. Mendrick called the meeting to order at 6 PM on March 12, 2018.

Business Meeting Speaker: Dr. Allister Vale, a founding member of this Specialty Section. He spoke to “How and Why Laundry Pods are Toxic?”

Meeting Minutes: Dr. Mendrick, President of the CTTSS, welcomed members to the meeting, introduced the new officers, asked for members input on 2019 SOT symposia, webinars, and CCT meetings. Dr. Tong discussed our budget. Dr. Mendrick introduced Allister Vale who then spoke on toxicity of laundry pods. Dr. Sauer presented certificate to outgoing Officers and a travel award to Dr. Dushani Palliyaguru.

2018 SOT Annual Meeting Courses/Sessions: The CTTSS sponsored a symposium on “Clinical and Translational Toxicity: From Theory to Therapy” on March 13. Speakers were members of CTTSS and we had approximately 180 attendees. We endorsed the following sessions that were accepted at the SOT meeting:

1. Symposium on “Advanced Imaging and Microscopy for Retinal Disease and Toxicity”
2. Symposium on “Understanding the Molecular Mechanisms of Zika Virus Reproductive and Developmental Toxicity
3. Informational Session titled “Informational Session: Changes to the Common Rule Regulations and Implications for Human Research”
4. Regional Interest Session on “Marijuana Safety: Issues Facing the Regulatory, Medical, and Academic Environments”

5. Roundtable Session titled “Unlocking the ‘Omics Archive: Enabling Toxicogenomic/Proteomic Investigation from Archival Samples”
6. Workshop Session on “Nonclinical to Clinical Translation of Antibody-Drug Conjugates”
7. Workshop Session titled “A Search for Biomarkers of Neurotoxicity: A Practical Approach”

Newsletter: Spring 2018

Teleseminars: “Research Beyond Basic Science: Pursuing Topics in Clinical and Translational Toxicology” on February 14, 2018 hosted by Dr. Wages.

Contributions to SOT website: News and Events detailing new areas of evolving science and presenting a membership survey
